Gas Exchange. In order to see how gas exchange occurs we need to look further into the lungs. Firstly we know that air enters the body through the mouth or nose, from here it moves to the pharynx (throat), passes through the larynx (voice box) and enters the trachea. The trachea splits into two branches, the left and right bronchus, each bronchus divides many times into smaller branches called ...

Alveoli: Gas Exchange - YouTube

Gas exchange is the physical process by which gases move passively by diffusion across a surface. For example, this surface might be the air/water interface of a water body, the surface of a gas bubble in a liquid, a gas-permeable membrane, or a biological membrane that forms the boundary between an organism and its extracellular environment.. Gases are constantly consumed and produced by ...
