God Bless America And Other

"God Bless America" is an American patriotic song written by Irving Berlin during World War I in 1918 and revised by him in the run up to World War II in 1938. The later version was notably recorded by Kate Smith, becoming her signature song. "God Bless America" takes the form of a prayer for God's blessing and peace for the nation.

God Bless America - Wikipedia

God bless America! But that's a dangerous prayer, because often, with the same tongue that we mouth "God bless America!" we spit "God destroy Iran!" Or North Korea. Or China. Or whatever. We want to bless America and curse our enemies. And while that kind of talk is certainly in the Bible, it's not very Biblical. It is not the way of Jesus.

Irving Berlin's song declares that before nations and governments, there is no other Lord, but God. As problematic as ambiguity and nationalism that is attached to the song, can be; at its inception, "God Bless America" was conceived as an anthem for peace. It was written at a time when the majority of Americans understood God as the one who makes Himself known in history, as testified to in the Christian Bible.
