The Geometry of Music: It is a simple fact that music is based on mathematics. Put simply, each note has its own vibration, and it is the frequency of the vibrations that distinguishes one note from another. The notes on each scale are separated from one another by simple mathematical proportions and our ear is able to recognise that.

Harmony of the Spheres.

An octave of music is divided evenly into twelve semitones. Therefore, if you assign the twelve semitones of an octave of music to the twelve numbers on the clock, and draw a line from each number to each other number, you have a harmonisphere. The clock measures time clockwise forward and counterclockwise backward.
