Audi Brake Pads Warning Light

audipages Front Brake Pad Warning Light Troubleshooting. The brake pad warning light is designed to come on when the front brakes wear down to about 25% left on the pads. It is triggered by an insert in the pads that has two wires attached. The wiring and pad is part of a ground loop that starts at the instrument cluster, goes through both brake pads and to ground.

audipages Front Brake Pad Warning Light

Troubleshooting

The later versions of the instrument cluster have an adaptation channel to enable or disable the brake pad warning light, using VAG-COM. The other way to properly disable the warning light for cars without the adaptation channel, is to jumper the brake pad warning circuit inside the car at the connection station under the left kick panel.

Audi Brake Warning Light ??? Pads are fine !! - YouTube

What the brake pad wear indicator warning light means Quite simply, when this light is on, the sensor in the brakes has determined that the brake pads are too thin. There are 2 main ways that auto manufacturers achieve this diagnosis. The first is by using a small sensor embedded into the brake pad material itself.

What Does the Brake Pad Wear Indicator Warning Light Mean ...

If you see the Audi brake warning light illuminated on your dash board instrument cluster, brake repair service is imminent. You have roughly 1,000 - 3,000 miles left on your front pads and Audi brake rotors. It's smart not to put brake service off. Once you see the light pop on, we recommend getting to the service shop within a week.

The lane departure warning light will illuminate when the lane assist system is switched on and road markings cannot be detected. If this light does not turn off when driving or if it is accompanied by a 'system fault' message, please contact your nearest Audi dealership.

Audi Warning Lights | Dashboard Lights | Your Complete Guide

Audi A4 Brake Warning Light Causes The brake warning light indicates that your A4 has detected that one of its major brake components has failed, typically detected through a loss of pressure. You'll feel a loss of pressure that manifests itself in the form of a "mushy" brake pedal.

Audi A4 Brake Warning Light: Why is it on? | Drivetrain

Sometimes, the brake pad warning light will come on when the pads have the majority of the friction material present. This stems from issues with the circuit's integrity. The most likely culprits are the connectors in the wheel wells. Water can enter into the brake pad's wear sensor connector and change the resistance in the circuit.
