Enterprise Architect Vs Solution

A solutions architect focuses on an organization's overall business goals, while an enterprise architect focuses on enforcing standards and managing items like data diagrams and process flows.

Solutions Architect vs. Enterprise Architect

From this perspective, solution architecture's value to enterprise architecture becomes even more clear.

Where an enterprise architect is concerned with the EA's current state, and the strategy to reach the desired future-state, solutions architects act on that strategic direction. Enterprise Architects vs. Solutions Architects

The Difference Between Enterprise Architecture and ...

Enterprise architecture can be conceptually divided into different architectural layers that involve Business Architecture and IT Architecture (Data, Application and Technology Architecture). Solution architecture then takes a problem, and proposes building blocks to solve it. It often reuses other elements made available by the Enterprise Architecture (Enterprise Building Blocks, Enterprise Capabilities, Architectural standards and guidelines)

The Key Difference between IT Architect Roles: Technical ...

Enterprise and solution architects don't design buildings, cities or other concrete structures. Their concern is the design of business activity systems in which human and computer actors perform processes to deliver services. They work to extend and improve business roles and processes that create and use data that is or can be digitized.

The business planning context - Enterprise and Solution ...

The difference between solution architect and enterprise architect lies in the scope of responsibilities. While the solution architect's authority is limited by the project they are assigned to, the enterprise architect (as the name suggests) must take a broader view and check whether the solution strategy chosen by the solution architect is in accord with the company's mission.
