Autumn leaves / Les feuilles mortes (120 bpm) : Backing ...

It's a tale of two torch songs. The original, written in French as "Les Feuilles Mortes" (literally, "Dead Leaves") was a dark lament of lost love and regret. The translated version, "Autumn Leaves," touched on the same theme, but in a gentler, more wistful way. The song began its life in 1945 as a poem.

Behind the song "Autumn Leaves" - Performing Songwriter

The premier recording of "Les feuilles mortes" was by French singer Cora Vaucaire (January 1948, Chant-du-Monde) or perhaps by Jacques Douai in 1947, and the first jazz recording of "Autumn Leaves" was probably the one by Artie Shaw (October 5, 1950, Decca). An earlier recording of his (on September 13) was rejected.
