History of games:

Women of the Tang court playing double land (about 800 AD)
Once people were playing with dice, they soon combined dice with board games to play backgammon, and the Egyptian game Hounds and Jackals. In India, they started to play the Hindu game Snakes and Ladders (which you may know as Chutes and Ladders).

History of games:What kind of games?*- Quatr.us Study Guides

The answer is probably somewhere in the late 18th century. Cricket was already established as a team game, indeed a club game, but there are definitely no references to a hockey club until Blackheath in 1862. This is perhaps surprising, as a recognisable form of hockey was being played in schools at least 75 years previously.
