Hello, I am trying to connect an old Weco Trace 2 to my remote edging system. Reading online I found out that this machine does not use the standard VCA-OMA protocol, but it uses some old Weco communication. Our software receives the data correctly from the tracer, but it can't convert it in VCA-OMA for our edgers. We receive the data from the tracer in this way: 02 DEV:WECO-FormTracer V 04.15 ...

Service manuals and cct diagrams for inverters are not things that the makers seem to hand out freely. Maybe it's because repairing inverters is potentially fatal and they don't encourage everyone to have a go. When you get a service manual, the best give a block diagram and circuit description as well as the circuit diagrams and scope traces of the signals driving the IGBTs. They leave a lot ...
