Some historic compressors from the 1950s were used creatively by Joe Meek and other notable engineers of the past. They achieved some of these effects and the compressor models have become venerated for their 'sound'; the JOEMEЕК compressor achieves more, and does it by design.

About Joe Meek

Given the social and moral environment of early '60s Britain, it's tempting to think that Joe Meek's repressed sexuality and fragile mental state played the major part in shaping his creativity,...

Carry on Compressing!: Joe Meek and 1960s Britain - PopMatters

Robert George "Joe" Meek (5 April 1929 – 3 February 1967) was an English record producer, musician, sound engineer and songwriter who pioneered space age and experimental pop music. He also assisted the development of recording practices like overdubbing, sampling and reverberation. Meek is considered one of the most influential sound engineers of all time, being one of the first to develop ...

Joe Meek - Wikipedia

It took a bit of digging to see what it’s capable of. In contrast to a VCA compressor, where changing ratios gives a subtle, progressive change, the Joe meek slope control gives five very different approaches & sounds. In conjunction with the compression control, slope changes the sound massively

Welcome to Joemeek

My association with Joe Meek in 1963 to 1965 gave me a lifelong interest in what makes a recording ‘sound’ good. Combinations of compression and EQ. I founded Alice mixers in 1969 and the company that specialised in compressors in 1993, so I have been designing and building electronic equipment since the early 1960s..... that’s 50 years!!

JoeMeek has long been known for the rackmount signal processing devices. The FloorQ is an attempt to deliver the same compression circuit in rackmount compressors like the M2. Additionally, the FloorQ has a built in preamp. The FloorQ is an optical circuit and the tone is quite transparent, but warm and very smooth.

JoeMeek FloorQ Compressor Review

Here is a rare classic from Joe Meek. The C2 is a stereo compressor, no longer in production, that designer Ted Fletcher says he is most proud of. It can be used during tracking or mastering and brings sonic magic to anything it is connected to! Please note this is not a 'channel strip' for a microphone/DI and does not supply phantom power.
