Installation Manual of Bifacial Module - Canadian Solar

Bifacial solar modules offer many advantages over traditional solar panels. Power can be produced from both sides of a bifacial module, increasing total energy generation. They're often more durable because both sides are UV resistant, and potential-induced degradation (PID) concerns are reduced when the bifacial module is frameless.

What are bifacial solar modules and how do they work?

One such development is bifacial solar panels. Since solar panels come in standardized sizes (either 60-cell or 72-cell), manufacturers are looking for creative ways to increase a panel's efficiency without increasing its size. With bifacial solar panels, manufacturers have developed solar cells that absorb sunlight on both sides to maximize production from light that reflects on the back of the panels.
