The Prologue opens by introducing Ella Rubinstein, a wife and mother whose life seems void of passion. Ella believes that love is secondary to things like security and is instead something that really only exists in romantic movies or books. In spite of this, the Prologue begins with a twist: Ella has filed for divorce after 20 years of marriage to her husband, David, because she has fallen in love with a mysterious someone else who lives on a different continent and whose life is entirely ...

The Forty Rules of Love Prologue-Part 1 Summary & Analysis ...

Yet there is an emptiness at the heart of Ella's life - an emptiness once filled by love. So when Ella reads a manuscript about the thirteenth-century Sufi poet Rumi and Shams of Tabriz, and his forty rules of life and love, her world is turned upside down. She embarks on a journey to meet the mysterious author of this work.
